From the Principal

Our strategic planning team is working hard to ensure that our directions are in place for Killara High School's three year roadmap. Following an extensive period of initial consultation with students, staff and families, our three priorities have emerged as developing successful learners, transforming learning through professional growth, and fostering wellbeing across our school community. No surprises here; the core business of any school is learning. However, it is what is known as the “Five Ps” that provide the clarity and the vision: the purpose, people, processes, products and practices. It is here that the more detailed aspects of planning come into play, as we determine not just our goals, but how we will measure our success. Our plan will be uploaded to our website before the start of Term 2, and as always, we are thankful for any feedback.

One way in which we are working to implement our plan is through the MindMatters program. MindMatters is an Australian Government endorsed program developed by beyondblue that supports schools to foster the mental health of its students, through the provision of training, tools and resources. Good mental health is essential for learning, and I thank Deputy Principal Carla Marchesin for her leadership of this program in our school. Find out more at http://www.mindmatters.edu.au/

We were delighted that Kieran Pain, Year 12, won the first round of the Lions Youth of the Year competition at St Ives. Kieran’s speech, An Australian Republic by the end of this decade, was truly impressive, and clearly indicated his worthiness as the winner. Kieran now progresses to the next round to be held this Saturday 7 March.

Congratulations go also to Wilson Zhao of Year 11, who placed 15th in Australia in the Australian Mathematical Olympiad Invitational Program. He will now proceed to the Asia/Pacific Mathematics Olympiad, and will sit a four-hour examination while on the Jindabyne Camp next week.

Killara has had a very successful week in sport. Our swim team gave it their all at the Zone Swimming Carnival on 23 February, placing first at the meet, and at the end of the same week our rugby team was victorious in the inaugural St Ives – Killara School Of Origin match, held at St Ives High School. The most heartening aspect of these successes, however, was the spirit in which our students entered into the events. Thank you to teachers Jennifer Downes, Adam Bruckshaw, Guy Hudson and Dane Le Rougetel for their management of these sports, and to St Ives High School for hosting us on Friday.

Congratulations

On Monday 23 February, Kieran Pain, our School Captain, competed in the Lions Club, Youth of the Year Quest. This is a competition where students have to attend a panel interview followed by two impromptu speeches and a five minute speech on a topic of their choice and they are judged on their efforts.

Kieran delivered an amazing talk on why we should be a Republic. His competition consisted of outstanding candidates from Masada College, Brigidine College, St Ives High School, Loreto Normanhurst and Roseville College.

Kieran was the winner!

He has now advanced to the regional finals and has made Killara High School very proud.

High School Musical – coming in June 2015

Killara High School is proud to present Disney’s High School Musical as its major performing arts production for 2015. We have begun the long process of preparing for the show, which will hit the stage on 4, 5, 11 and 12 June this year. Our production staff were overwhelmed by the enthusiasm with which students signed up to audition, and wanted to thank and congratulate all students for their participation.

A special mention goes out to Myles Elston and Andrea Velechovsky of Year 10, for their respective successes in landing the lead roles of Troy and Gabriella. We also look forward to seeing Jessica Ramsey of Year 11 and Renee Butler of Year 10 playing the infamous duo of Sharpay and Ryan.

The production team are excited to be working with such an outstanding group of students over the coming months; this will be a show not to be missed!

Keep an eye out for ticket sales beginning Week 1, Term 2.

School Attendance Policy

Parents are advised that the DEC has recently revised the School Attendance Policy. Please see the next two pages below for information related to the policy changes.

Liesl Williamson
Head Teacher Stage 5

Compulsory School Attendance

Information for parents

Education for your child is important and regular attendance at school is essential for your child to achieve their educational best and increase their career and life options. NSW public schools work in partnership with parents to encourage and support regular attendance of children and young people. When your child attends school every day, learning becomes easier and your child will build and maintain friendships with other children.

What are my legal responsibilities?

Education in New South Wales is compulsory for all children between the ages of six years and below the minimum school leaving age. The Education Act 1990 requires that parents ensure their children of compulsory school age are enrolled at, and regularly attend school, or, are registered with the Board of Studies, Teaching and Educational Standards for homeschooling.

Once enrolled, children are required to attend school each day it is open for students.

The importance of arriving on time

Arriving at school and class on time:

- Ensures that students do not miss out on important learning activities scheduled early in the day
- Helps students learn the importance of punctuality and routine
- Give students time to greet their friends before class
- Reduces classroom disruption

Lateness is recorded as a partial absence and must be explained by parents.

What if my child has to be away from school?

On occasion, your child may need to be absent from school. Justified reasons for student absences may include:

- being sick, or having an infectious disease
- having an unavoidable medical appointment
- being required to attend a recognised religious holiday
- exceptional or urgent family circumstance (e.g. attending a funeral)

Following an absence from school you must ensure that within 7 days you provide your child's school with a verbal or written explanation for the absence. However, if the school has not received an explanation from you within 2 days, the school may contact you to discuss the absence.

Principals may decline to accept an explanation that you have provided if they do not believe the absence is in the best interest of your child. In these circumstances your child's absence would be recorded as unjustified. When this happens the principal will discuss their decision with you and the reasons why.

Principals may request medical certificates or other documentation when frequent or long term absences are explained as being due to illness. Principals may also seek parental permission to speak with medical specialists to obtain information to collaboratively develop a health care plan to support your child. If the request is denied, the principal can record the absences as unjustified.

Travel

Families are encouraged to travel during school holidays. If travel during school term is necessary, discuss this with your child's school principal. An Application for Extended Leave may need to be completed. Absences relating to travel will be marked as leave on the roll and therefore contribute to your child's total absences for the year.

In some circumstances students may be eligible to enrol in distance education for travel periods over 50 school days. This should be discussed with your child's school principal.
My child won’t go to school. What should I do?

You should contact the principal as soon as possible to discuss the issue and ask for help. Strategies to help improve attendance may include a referral to the school’s learning and support team or linking your child with appropriate support networks. The principal may seek further support from the Home School Liaison Program to develop an Attendance Improvement Plan.

What might happen if my child continues to have unacceptable absences?

It is important to understand that the Department of Education and Communities may be required to take further action where children of compulsory school age have recurring numbers of unexplained or unjustified absences from school.

Some of the following actions may be undertaken:

- Compulsory Schooling Conferences
  You may be asked, along with your child, to attend a Compulsory Schooling Conference. The conference will help to identify the supports your child may need to have in place so they attend school regularly. The school, parents and agencies will work together to develop an agreed plan (known as Undertakings) to support your child’s attendance at school.

- Application to the Children’s Court – Compulsory Schooling Order
  If your child’s attendance at school remains unsatisfactory the Department may apply to the Children’s Court for a Compulsory Schooling Order. The Children’s Court magistrate may order a Compulsory Schooling Conference to be convened.
  - Prosecution in the Local Court
    School and Department staff remain committed to working in partnership with you to address the issues which are preventing your child’s full participation at school. In circumstances where a breach of compulsory schooling orders occurs further action may be taken against a parent in the Local Court. The result of court action can be the imposition of a community service order or a fine.

What age can my child leave school?

All New South Wales students must complete Year 10 or its equivalent. After Year 10, and up until they reach 17 years of age, there are a range of flexible options for students to complete their schooling.

Working in Partnership

The Department of Education and Communities recognises that working collaboratively with students and their families is the best way to support the regular attendance of students at school.

We look forward to working in partnership with you to support your child to fulfil their life opportunities.

The day she meets Sadira, Farrin’s life changes forever.

Finn, Alex. Beastly
“I am a beast. A beast! Not quite wolf or bear, gorilla or dog but a horrible new creature that walks upright. I am a monster. You think I’m talking fairy tales? No way. The place is New York. Touchell, Dianne. A small madness
Rose didn’t tell anyone about it. She wondered if it showed. She looked at herself in the mirror and turned this way and then that way. She stood as close to the mirror as she could, leaning over the bathroom basic, looking into her own eyes, until they disappeared behind the fog of her breath. Looking for something. Some evidence that she was different. How could all these feelings not show? She was a woman now, but it didn’t show and she couldn’t tell anyone.

Chemistry Units 1 & 2
Comprehensive coverage of the NSW HSC Business Studies Syllabus. Include: revision questions for each topic; sample exam paper with fully worked solutions; comprehensive glossary of Business Studies terms.

Ebrahim, Zak (with Jeff Giles). The terrorist’s son: a story of choice
‘There’s a reason that murderous hatred has to be taught – and not just taught but forcibly implanted. It’s not a natural occurring phenomenon. It is a lie. It is a lie told over and over again – so often to people who have no resources and who are denied alternative views of the world. It’s a lie my father believed, and one he hoped to pass on to me. I’ve spent my life trying to understand what drew my father to terrorism, and struggled with the knowledge that I have his blood in my veins. By telling my story, my intention is to do something hopeful and instructive: to offer a portrait of a young man who was raised in the fires of fanaticism and embraced non-violence instead. I can’t make any grand claims for myself, but all our lives have themes, and the theme of mine so far is this: everyone has a choice.”

Hannely Greg. Business Studies
Topics covered include: Operations management, marketing, financial management and human resources.

Hudson, Alice. Taylor Swift: from the heart
“There is really nothing like the feeling you get after you finish a song and you sit there and you just think: that is exactly how I felt.”

Mackay Hugh. The Art of belonging
The eternal question ‘who am I?’ must be weighed against an even deeper question: Who are we? We are writing each other’s stories as much as we are writing our own.

- Support Lindfield is a local community group which is working collaboratively with all stakeholders to create a new heart for our Village that incorporates a Community Hub. Our vision is to create a people place of hybrid spaces, a focus of Lindfield community life for all. A green active and safe village centre that integrates with an inspiring building containing a new age library, facility centre, activities/marketplace/cinema space and much more. all linked to short and long term parking and station access.
- Ku-ring-gai Council is now ordaining a new phase where consultants will prepare and evaluate a master plan for each of our Councils four options for the 12,000 sqm site. Each could have quite different outcomes e.g., village type and atmosphere, retail amenity, building height, cost to Council (rate payers), traffic generation, type of open space e.g., park and green park land.
- All of the four options include the Community Hub, short and long term basement parking and open space (village green/links). Commercial use that have market demand are incorporated to help offset the cost of the community components. These uses largely centre around the intersection of retail/restaurant/retail, and number of apartments. We have deliberately not described the four Council options here so as not to bias the survey.
- Council expects to put the four master plan options on display in March or April of this year. We will get in touch again at that stage to provide opportunities or you to have further input.
